2022 Fall Session
Total Class Sessions: 25 Class Sessions Per Week: 5 Total Weeks: 5 Class Session Length (Minutes): 145 Credit Hours: 4	Instructor: Staff Classroom: TBA Office Hours: TBA Language: English

Course Description:

International trade studies business and trade in a global context. It explores the unique competitive, political and social environments in which international business takes place. This course aims to equip students with the knowledge and skills needed for successful business operation in an international environment. Topics covered include: Background for international business; Trade and investment; International institutions; the world financial environment; Dynamics of international business-government relationships; Corporate policy and strategy; Legal issues and ethics; Functional management, operations and concerns.

Prerequisite: ECON 2110 Intermediate Microeconomics and ECON 2210 Intermediate Macroeconomics

Course Assignments:

Quizzes:

There will be 5 quizzes administered through the whole semester. Quizzes will always be completed in the first twenty minutes of class. Quizzes will be a combination of objective and short answer/ essay type questions. There will be no make-up quizzes.

Case study

The main purpose of this task is for students to maintain the concepts, fundamentals and sensitivity required as managers facing real-world international business problems. Each student will work individually on a case and submit the report at the end of the semester. An overview of case study writing techniques will be discussed later in the semester.

The following questions help construct the case analysis:

1. What are the main issues faced by the organization?
2. What are possible causes of these issues?
3. What are possible solutions to these issues?
4. What are the advantages and disadvantages of these solutions?
5. What is your final selected solution and why? Explain specifically how this solution would improve the current situation facing the organization.
6. What concepts of international business does the case illustrate?

7. What are the lessons learned from the case?

Note that an effective case write-up begins with an introduction which states the issues of the case and the points to be discussed. The body of the analysis develops the ideas discussing the pros and cons of solutions and offering a recommendation. The conclusion summarizes the essential elements of the analysis, highlighting the concepts of international business and lessons learned.

Exams:

Exams will consist of multiple choice, short answer questions and medium-length short essay questions. Questions on the exams will test students' understanding and application of the topics covered in class.

There will be one midterm exam and one final exam. Both will be closed book exams. The exact date and place for final examination will be announced later in the semester.

Term paper and oral presentation

Each student is required to complete an individual essay assignment on a topic selected from the list of all topics proved by the instructor. During the process of writing this term paper, students are expected to gain a deeper understanding of the topics covered in class and apply what they have learned to analyze problems in the real business world. Critical thinking and professional writing skills are also practiced. Writing in a professional manner means the paper should be correctly formatted with no grammatical or spelling errors.

Each student will need to present their term paper orally. They will have about 15 to 20 minutes and are expected to show the use of technology, organization of materials, effective communication in their presentation. Presentations will be made in the final week.
