

HIST 2435: History of the Modern Asia

2022 Spring Session
Total Class Sessions: 25 Class Sessions Per Week: 5 Total Weeks: 5 Class Session Length (Minutes): 145 Credit Hours: 4	Instructor: Staff Classroom: TBA Office Hours: TBA Language: English

Course Description:

This course introduces students to modern Asian history. We will focus on the political, religious, social, cultural, economic, and intellectual developments of Asia and how Asia interacts with the rest of the world. Topics include the histories of East, Southeast and South Asia during four periods: the early modernity of the seventeenth to nineteenth centuries; the age of empires in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries; the rise of the nation-state in the first half of the twentieth century; and the new postwar order in the twentieth century. Emphasis will be placed on events taking place after 1850 (change in Japan; India's independence from colonial Britain; the rise of Nationalism and Communism in China and Vietnam; World War II in Asia; China's economic growth after the war).

Course Materials:

There will be a course pack (required) for this course, contents of which will consist of materials from the following recommended books:

by Kenneth Pomeranz (Jul 31, 2012)

Course Format and Requirements:

The primary format of this course is lecture, problem solving and review. This will be a very fast-paced class. So it is extremely important that students keep up with required readings and homework problems. Pre-reading the relevant chapter and attempting the assigned homework problems prior to attending class is strongly recommended. Familiarizing with the course material before class, you will gain a better understanding the information presented during lecture. Because the class will move quickly, you will be responsible for learning as much as possible. Students are strongly encouraged to ask questions on things you did not understand. Main learning points will be highlighted from the textbook chapters and in-class sample questions.

Attendance:

Attendance will not be taking but all quizzes will be the first priority in class. Arriving late may cause you to miss a quiz, impacting your performance assessment. There is no made-up quiz.

Course Assignments:Quizzes:

There will be 6 quizzes administered through the whole semester and the lowest one will be dropped. Quizzes will always be completed in the first ten minutes of class. Quizzes will consist of a series of multiple choice, matching, true/false, and short-answer questions.

Exams:

All exams will contain questions drawn from class notes and readings and will be based on the following format:

1) Short answer questions:

You will be asked questions pertaining to subjects, issues and changes in art derived from readings on handouts.

2) Multiple choices3) Short essay question:

You will be asked to write an essay pertaining to a specific question.

Midterm exams

This course will have one in-class closed-book mid-term exam. It will cover course materials taught until the day before the exam.

Final exam

A three-hour, closed-book final exam will be taken at the end of the session. The final exam is cumulative, based on contents taught in the whole semester. The final exam is worth 25% of the final grade. Note that the final will not be taken during the normal class times. Exact time and location for final will be announced in the last week of sessions.

Critical Response Paper:

Students will write a two page paper in response to one specific question given by the instructor. Noticing that, an effective critical response paper begins with an introduction which states the issues of the case and the points to be discussed. The body of the response paper develops the ideas discussing the pros and cons of solutions and offering a recommendation. The conclusion summarizes the essential elements of the analysis, highlighting the concepts of analyzing history phenomenon and lessons learned. Students should refer to the below guidelines for clarification:

Paper General Guidelines

- Double-spaced and typed, using 12 font and one inch margins.
- A clear introduction with a defined thesis; following by a well-structured body and conclusion.
- Proof read for spell checking, grammatical and structural errors.
- All sources must be properly cited.

Paper Grading Policy

- 20%- Overall style and creativity of the work
- 40%- Structure and Argument
- 40%- Reading of Sources, use of evidence and proper citations

Term paper:

Each student is required to finish an individual essay assignment on topic selected from the list of all topics proved by the instructor. During the process of writing this term paper, students are expected to gain a deeper understanding of topics covered by this course and apply the knowledge they learned here to analyze the problems on modern history and especially on how the modern Asian regions interact with the world. Critical thinking and professional writing skills are also practiced. Professionalism of the paper means that documents are formatted, grammar is correct, and no spelling errors.

Each student will give a presentation on the term paper. Everyone will have about 15 to 20 minutes and you are expected to show the use of technology in presentations, organization of materials, effective communication, and professional look. Presentations will be made during the final week of classes.

Standards of a successful term paper must include:

- Present backgrounds and biographical materials on the artist, formal analysis and background materials on the artwork.
- Provide evidencing research.
- Show theoretical and contextual interpretation and analysis of the work
- The paper is written with nice formats, grammar and logics.
