Course Materials:

Marketing: An Introduction,

Gary Armstrong, Philip Kotler, 13th edition.

Course Format and Requirements:

The course format includes both lectures and discussion. Lectures will reinforce and expand upon material found in the text. Discussions and in-class activities are designed to foster active learning to bring new perspectives to course material. Students are expected to read the text and assigned materials.

It is important to attend each class as exams will cover all materials taught in class, including those not in the textbook. Each student is responsible for knowing information of any changes in class meeting, exam procedure, material coverage, etc.

Course Assignments:

Quizzes:

Throughout the semester, students will have seven in-class quizzes. The formats include multiple choices and True/False. Two lowest grades of the semester will be dropped. Quizzes cannot be made up. Please be sure to bring a calculator.

Exams:

This course will have two non-cumulative midterm exams, covering the material discussed in class and the assigned readings. The final exam will be cumulative. There will NOT be make-up midterm exams. ALL EXAMS are close-book.

If you feel strongly that your grade on some test is unfair, you have the right to appeal. You must submit a written note to instructor clearly stating the problem within two weeks in which grades for that exam are posted.

Individual Case Study Project:

Selected marketing problems encountered by real firms will be the topics for individual case study. In case study for this course, students will focus on identifying the marketing problems, introducing marketing concepts and strategy, and applying them to recommend an action as a solution to the marketing problem. There is no "right" or "wrong" answer to a case, but usually some are better than others.

Required deliverables for the individual case study project includes:

- An individual in-class presentation
- A printed report submitted to the instructor

GROUP MARKETING PROJECT:

A group of 3-4 students have to give a 7- 8 minute presentation. The presentation will consist of analyzing a company (or a brand) with respect to their marketing strategy related to your group's assigned topic. Your presentation should cover points like:

- Marketing strategies the company use
- Why using this strategy?
- Is this strategy effective?
- What other strategies could be used?
